

Hi Nat!

It is 12:30am and I am still awake. I was just lying on my bed and thinking about you - and just had to pleasure myself! I pictured us together - naked - and just hugging and kissing - but this was more than enough to bring me to a wonderful climax! Thank you!

I know by what you have told me that you really love the human form - naked especially. I also feel extremely comfortable in speaking with you about my wildest dreams - because I know that in our time to come - we will both help each other to realize all of these.

In my '7 Days on the Mountain with God' in 2003 - He changed every aspect of my physical being. My hair was amazing. My face and cheek bones - chiseled. My teeth perfect. He gave me a body like David Beckham. And he made my cock so big when I was erect I had to undo my pants! In essence he made my body glorified - which is His plan for us in the near future. For all of us!

While we will be the most special people in each others' lives - it is unrealistic to expect that we will be able to fulfill all of each others wants and needs. In this new age of Heaven on Earth - God will enable us to experience all of the wonders of all of the many different races and sizes and shapes He has created - without any guilt or remorse - our love will be so great for our significant other. We will experience a time of free love unlike any in history - it will be incredible!

I was not a good lover in the past. While I had many great girlfriends (over 150) God always intervened and caused me much hardship in this area. It was a big component of the tests He put me through. That time is over, Nat. At first I may not be the best lover - but with time God will turn me into the greatest pleaser of women - all for your sake! I am showing you this because I want you to see what you will have intimate access to. This is the cock that God (Norah) has told me is the most beautiful in the world - and it will be mine - and yours!

You know - Nat - we have known each other for less than two weeks - and I feel like I already know you intimately! I would never share any of this if I didn't feel completely comfortable - and know that you know this is coming from a place of love. To me the bedroom - our bedroom - will be a place where we enable each other to live out all our dreams and fantasies. It will be the most intimate area we will share. While we are not there yet - and likely won't be there for several months - in my heart and mind - I am already there!

I don't throw the words I love you around easily. I believe in this day - in this society - people use it to express a number of things - the majority of which are not true, genuine deep love and commitment. I love you - Nat! It wasn't love at first sight - but it was pretty darn close! It happened the day you first shared yourself with me - and I got lost in your gorgeous eyes. I was smitten.

I will do everything in my power to make you happy - Nat. Please don't ever feel shy or embarrassed to ask me for anything - as the saying goes - when you ask God for something He never says NO. He does say: 1. Yes. 2. Not Yet. 3. I have something better in mind! As you come to understand me - you will see that I can and will realize all your dreams - through God.

It is 1:30am now and time for me to get a bit of shut-eye. In closing - I just want to say - you inspire me - you exhilarate me - and while many people I know consider me the happiest and most positive person they know - if it is possible - yours and Christopher's presence in my life has made me happier! I can't wait for the next time we are in each others' company - whether physically - or simply on the telephone...

All my love,
