

Dearest Nat,

You just hung up on me after accusing me of hurting you. I know I have and it saddens me tremendously. It was never my intention.

With that said - I know God is very good - great actually! I know He (They) have a Great Plan for you - for us. With your disclosure to me about your Grandmother this morning - I believe that may be a part of this. As you said - you feel that August 10th may be her final day in this realm. With my eyes and heart of Faith - I see a bigger picture for all this. God is bringing everything into complete synchrony - in a time which is the most painful in the entire year for you - He/They are befalling another great pain - the death of the second-most important person in your world.

If I didn't know God the way I do - Nat - I would say this is a tragic co-incidence. But everything happens for a reason. And the only reason I can think of - is that God has something EXTRA SPECIAL waiting for you. Something which will absolutely blow your mind. You have been a faithful servant of Jesus for many years and your reward is at hand - Nat.

I wish I could transform myself into the perfect person for you - physically, mentally, emotionally, spiritually and financially. I know it is all within me - but I don't know when it will all happen. I do know that it is all happening in Parallel Universes - for us. As such - the decision I made to let you go was selfless - as I am giving up something which I have never had - because my love for you is even stronger than my love for myself. I want you to thrive in every area of your being - to express yourself completely - and to have all of this returned to you by someone who values you completely and can be everything to you. I cannot.

With that said - I have asked Noel and Norah to intervene in our lives and to do everything they can to make us both completely fulfilled. I know they will listen and will bring us our own. What that is - I do not know. Maybe They (Noel and Norah) will transform me into Jason Momoa! Why not?! They can do anything! Actually I don't even need them. I can do this myself! After all - I am Omnipotent, Omniscient and Omnipresent as are they. So don't be surprised if you receive a message from Jason asking you out on a date - it is me!

All my love,
