

Dearest Nat,

Well, Tuesday is done! My sister Jo-Anne - upon hearing about our breaking up - invited me for dinner last night - with my Mum and her husband Al. I only got her message at 3:30pm - upon my return from the food bank - and didn't really feel like driving 45mins in traffic in the heat when I wasn't really even hungry. So I cancelled. I created the video (below) so that she and my Mum could see I am okay.

I hope you had a great day, Nat!

It is August 7th now - and I know August 10th looms. In honouring your wishes I will not communicate with you - but - I just want you to know that my heart and soul are with you. I hope you opt to go to church this Sunday. I know how therapeutic being in that family is for you and Chris - and at this time more than ever you need this family. And your Dad is carefully watching over you - Nat - Guiding your fate at every step.

It is for this reason that I am not worried about you in any way - Nat. I know that Noel and Norah have the assistance of your Dad in Guiding your fate - and as such - I know that it will only be a matter of time before everything turns around for the good. For the very good!

I have my hopes and dreams for my life - and you are an integral part of this life. In time - hopefully a very brief amount of time - you will be the Director of Eden House - and not only Eden House NDG - but >10,000 Eden Houses down to every community in every city across the world! And as Eden House will be the greatest community service in every area - your legacy will be a great one!

Yesterday I received a message from someone I hadn't spoken with in many months. Her name is Lily Xu. I told you about her. She owns a company called Tomorrow's Lily - a Fashion Design House - which she moved from California to Wisconsin. I contacted her because of your interest in designing dresses. I will be speaking with her soon!

I don't know if you will be reading this before or after August 10th - Nat - but I just want you to know that I am with you and that my heart bleeds for you during this time. Please give Chris a hug and a kiss for me.

All my love,
