

Ross Harvey: NDG's Own Renaissance Man Shares His Story This Christmas

Montreal's West End has long been home to remarkable talent — but few lives weave together athletic triumph, scientific achievement, spiritual insight, and community devotion quite like that of Ross Harvey.

A proud nephew of Canadiens' legend Doug Harvey, Ross grew up in Notre-Dame-de-Grâce, a neighbourhood that has shaped his character, his calling, and his creative fire. From his earliest days, he showed a gift for excellence — one that would carry him across continents and disciplines, uniting mind, body, and spirit in a rare harmony.

Ross became a World Champion racquetball player, proving that passion and perseverance could turn any court into a cathedral. He went on to earn his Doctor of Veterinary Medicine, a vocation that reflected his deep respect for all living things. Yet his story didn't stop there — his entrepreneurial vision soon led him to take a startup nutritional company onto NASDAQ, marking another milestone in a career defined by courage and innovation.

Through the years, Ross has also founded several purpose-driven initiatives — NuVoWay.ca, G3Golf.ca, and NDGProject.com — each one rooted in the same principle: that true success is measured not in profit, but in service, creativity, and faith.

Now, Ross Harvey's legacy continues to unfold through the written word. The author of 24 books, he chronicles his journey of redemption, discovery, and divine guidance in prose that is both poetic and profoundly human.

This Christmas, Ross is offering something special to his Montreal West End community — a chance to share in his story and spirit. Each book comes signed, a personal token of gratitude and grace.
